

NAMES & FACES

LeRoy Haynes Center opens satellite facility

Representatives of city, county and state officials were on hand recently as the LeRoy Haynes Center in La Verne cut the ribbon to officially open a 5,000-square-foot facility housing a staff of 20 in central La Verne.

The satellite facility, operating under the direction of Tisha Langley, director of mental health for LeRoy Haynes Center, represents the first time LeRoy Haynes services have been moved off of the main campus of the 65-year-old facility. The move is part of an outreach effort to further increase community-based services to children and families.

Courtesy Photo

From left, La Verne Chamber of Commerce Board Chairman Daniel Neale of Nationwide Insurance in Montclair; Maydeck; LeRoy Haynes Center Board Member Dena Garvin-Smart, of Stellar Business Bank; Langley; LeRoy Haynes Center Board Chairman John Renken, of The Renken Company; LeRoy Haynes Center Board Member Bob Mason, of R.H. Mason Insurance Managers; and La Verne Mayor Don Kendrick.