Holiday Lighting At Leroy Haynes Center

LA VERNE - More than 200 members of the community turned out again this year as LeRoy Haynes Center lit the holiday lights for the kids in the second annual "Celebrate being a kid" program. The LeRoy Haynes Center, currently celebrating its 65th anniversary, serves 350 to 400 children from throughout Southern California annually through its four basic programs -- therapeutic residential treatment, transitional housing, Haynes Education Center and mental health.
